

Tech Assault are looking for new and interesting locations to run their innovative Laser Tag games

Who are we?

Tech Assault are a small local Melbourne based business passionate about bringing the world of video games to real life. We achieve this with high tech laser tag rifles and our own custom built software.

We have been running our unique style of game from warehouse/sports centre locations where we create temporary battlefields using inflatable bunkers. As well as our standard private sessions we also run kids parties, bucks parties, team building and have recently started monthly tournaments. Over the last couple of years our customers have been giving us amazing feedback.

Why are we contacting you?

The equipment we use makes for an amazing experience but we feel the locations we run them in could be more varied and interesting. Always seeking to improve our offering, we feel your location would be a great place to run our games.

In our eyes an ideal location would be:

- Safe to run around in - little or no tripping hazards or other potentially dangerous sections
- Interesting, large and varied environment - lots of places for people to use as cover

What now?

We can be flexible with dates and times and would love to work alongside you with this exciting idea.
